

Empowering employees with Google Workspace suite of products

The company was in need of the best tool to improve its internal communication and collaboration processes. Webveer was instrumental in addressing and resolving this issue by implementing Google Workspace products at Nexion.

The challenge

Since Nexion was in the business of producing precision tiles manufacturing, there was a critical need for efficient exchange of information, sharing the ideas among the employees and organizing the documents on a single and centralized platform. There was a lot of time wasted on routine work among the business users, making the processes inefficient and unproductive.

The solution

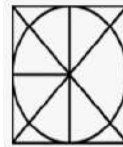

Nexion decided to move to Google Workspace to overcome the challenges. A cloud based suite of tools was a part of strategy to address issues for effective collaboration and communication. Webveer migrated the Nexion user profiles without any system downtime and issues. Cloud training delivery imparted by Webveer was easily understood and closed to what the Nexion's employees wanted to know.

The results

Company witnessed a high level of real-time interaction and instant feedback among the users using Google Meet. The Google Drive provided a centralized platform to real time edit and share the documents such as Docs, Sheets, and Slides. Google Forms helped in getting the instant feedback facilitating quick business decisions. Nexion's employees were able to collaborate productively and efficiently

“ Google Workspace products have helped our employees to use the technology in the best possible way to interact at every level of organization. With cloud technology in place, the document management process became refined and employees were able to access, organize and manage the documents easily. We witnessed marked improvements in our internal communication and collaboration processes with Meet ”
